"MIDDLING" ALONG

In humble mood a Newmarket clergyman on Sunday morning recalled that Macaulay had little use for the church and that on the rare occasions when he attended church was wont to note in his diary "a poor sermon." The greatest praise he ever gave in his diary was "a middling sermon." The preacher went on to say that it was quite true, that sermons were inclined to be . "middling," and yet, he said, people still came to church hoping that even in a poor sermon they would find something to satisfy their hunger.

Macaulay was a genius. Even as a boy he performed remarkable feats of memory. He could read half a dozen books in the time an ordinary person could skim one book. As a writer he had a gift for devouring great quantities of information and fashioning it all into one flowing, convincing, fascinating story. Obviously, the world cannot provide a Macaulay for every pulpit, and, comfortingly, those who do preach need not fear the presence of an impatient Macaulay in the congregation, with a diary awaiting him at home.

If there is a fault in our churches it is not to any great extent in our clergymen. Generally speaking, we have in our pulpits men of good ability who are preaching "middling" to excellent sermons and, more important, are living sacrificial lives. Our churches are as strong and as useful as we make them. Our ministers do a job which corresponds roughly to the encouragement they receive.

Some are better preachers than others, but there are usually empty pews even in the churches of the best-known city preachers. Some are better pastors than others but all sincere pastors do a worth-while job. Both preachers and pastors would do better, just as each of us does better in his or her own job, with more encouragement.

Doctors have the encouragement of a steady demand on their services and good remuneration. Clergymen often have both empty pews and low salaries to discourage them, yet they carry on, doing their chosen work, brightening the lives of others and leavening the world with the gospel of happiness in service. On the Home Front too

 When a gun goes into action every man has a job to do. Seconds count, and team work gets results.

Training . . . endless training . . . gets efficiency that makes each man part of a perfect machine.

But something more than efficiency is needed to make a top-rank fighting unit. There must be loyalty . . . that spirit of responsibility that each man feels toward his mates.

We've got efficiency on the farm front . . . we're producing more, and with less help to do it. Keep up the teamwork that will make each one of us go all out to support our men on the fighting fronts.

We too, are part of a fighting unit . . . citizens of a nation at war. We must not let our men on the fighting fronts down.

Invasion means high tension on the fighting fronts . . . combined operations ... thorough team work in every detail. And that call for greater action comes back to us at home. We have a job to do here, too. We must all buy Victory Bonds. We have a responsibility to our mates on the firing line. We can't let them down.

And the job that we are asked to do is ... save more, and lend more to our country. We are asked to let our country have the use of money that we do not need now. We will have the money later on to improve our farms and to buy stock and equipment; for new barns and silos; for new furnishings and conveniences for our homes.

Be ready to buy more Victory Bonds. National War Finance Committee

BRAY CHICKS PROMPT SHIPMENT

Unusually heavy hatches allow us to say, definitely, that if you order your Bray Chicks (either day-old or started) right away for prompt shipment, we can probably fill your order without delay.

That is more than we can prophesy for later in the season. Advance orders have been extremely heavy for later delivery.

But we can supply a lot of good Bray Chicks right now. And right now is a mighty good time to start chicks. Experience tells us that the highest egg prices of 1944 will be realized in September, October, November. Good Bray Chicks, started now and raised right, should be in nice production just when prices are soaring. (If you take started chicks, of course, they will be laying that much larger eggs, and cashing in on the wide fall premiums for egg size). Just to make sure, in ordering, name a second choice on breed, grade and date of shipment. (We'll do our level best, of course, to give you your first choice).

first Objective Nexo K. Arcona RUGEN o Angermunde

N these decisive months all Canada's effort is concentrated on one great objective theattack that is to destroy the Nazi menace and all that it represents. Years of work have gone into its preparation. The best of our young men are staking their lives on its success.

We in Canada must support and strengthen this attack with all our effort. This one purpose must command our work, our minds and our hearts.

We must not permit any scramble for private gain or individual scifish ends, to distract us from our main task. If we concentrate on seeking, individually or jointly, higher prices, higher pay or higher profits, we shall be diverting our attention from the main task at this critical time. We shall also endanger the stability of prices which we in Canada have achieved after great difficulties-a stability that is essential to efficiency and fairness in war, and to peacetime prosperity afterward.

Our young men are fighting for a Canada and a world in which all men can have faith, hope and security. Each of them wants to come back to a job-or a farm-with a future. We at home must keep secure for them a strong and stable foundation on which alone a postwar period of promise and achievement can be huilt.

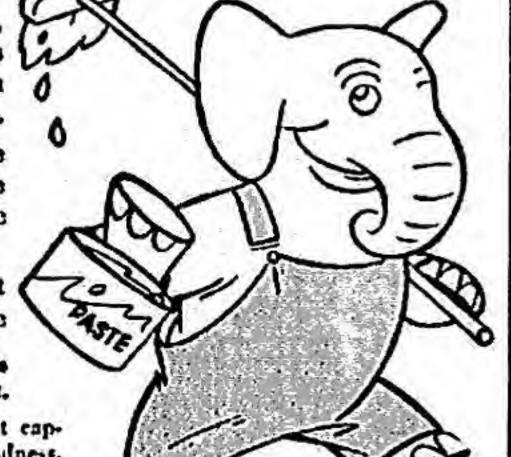

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

afficient to do a good Job but we hope the axes won't fall too hard. "Red" Palmateer of Newmarket shades 14-year-old Norman Stunden, Richmond Hill, for the starting berth. Perhaps Walter Klimak of Whitby, who finished the season in the Whitby nets, is more experienced and a shade better but he didn't have the same amount of subber to handle as either of the other two. Garry Carl and Carl Sellars of Markham were both really good but had fine defensive protection. So we passed them over. Perhaps district loyalty had a bit to do with it but we don't think our informants erred far. We were not too highly impressed with Baker of Navy. Stunden, we think, will go farther than any of them if he can keep improving, and why shouldn't he? Palmateer has both courage and ability.

Clair Dillon of Navy was our choice for the first defence spot. The North Bay boy has everything and when he appeared in junior both Toronto and Hamilton sports writers went overboard for him. Boris Tipoff of Markham gets the spot beside Dillon but not by much. Tipoff had a fine season both offensively and defensively and is a big fast boy. Del. Pettinger of Navy, member of a wellknown hockey clan, was good the night we saw him but a bit crude. "Blondle" Blakely of Richmond Hill was effective too, as were Heffering | of Whitby and Page of Markham.

Bill Armstrong of Navy gets the starting berth at centre and deservedly too, we think. Armstrong is plenty smooth and a real senior player. Wally Samanski of Whitby, while still a juvenile, is close behind for effectiveness and that goes for junior A too. Next year he should be a star for Oshawa juniors. "Barney" Peterman of Newmarket, Bill Lowe, Navy, Johnny Sullivan of Richmond Hill and Bob Bowcott and Jack Routeliffe of Markham all rate high both in our books and in those of others. Jackle Harden of Whitby, blond,

180-pound youngster, wins the leftwing berth by a narrow margin
